

ASSIGNMENT 01 / CLASS (SELF) PORTRAIT/ 07 09 2009

A way for me to learn about you all, and a way for you to experiment with visualization.

to visualize = 想像 [xiang xiàng]

Make photo portraits of each other and print them out on A4 sheets.

Arrange the photos on the wall. (

Then use yellow stickers to tag (= 标签 [biāo qiān]) your own photo.

The following information should be included: (in Chinese, pinyin and, if possible, English)

- > your name (in chinese and pinyin)
- > where in China you originally from (which city or province)
- > what fields are you most interested in? (motiongraphics?, installation art?, webdesign? advertising? etc.)
- > what software do you use most?
- > what do you hope to do when you have graduated?
- > and anything else that you feel is important for me to know about you

Myself and Hong Rongman, will also take part and tag our own photo on the wall.

The photos and tags will stay on the wall for the whole semester.

You can keep adding new tags, and start making connections between each other using tape or string.

These connections could relate to many things, for instance geographical similarities, common interests, past collaborations.
